Apes Fear Fire.

Explorer Stanley has given an account of apes that carry torches at night. He was doubtless mistaken for all the monkey tribes are afraid of fire. Nevertheless, gorillas will gather about a deserted campfire for the sake of warmth—though it never occurs to them to keep the embers alight by adding fresh fuel.

A Crawling Fish.

A Brazilian fish called the malha cannot swim. It can only crawl or walk or hop. It has a long, upturned snout and resembles a toad. The anterior fins of the malha are quite small and are not able to act on the water. They only move backward and forward and are in reality thin paws, which are of no service for swimming.

The Newspaper in North Africa.

"Extra!" shouted in the streets of Algiers or any other North African town would not bring the people of the streets crowding around the newsboy, but would send them hurrying, as much as it lies in an Arab to hurry, to the "office" of the public reader. He holds an important position, his duty being to pass on the news of the day to illiterate citizens.—The Christian Herald.

Few Women Misanthropes.

We grant that one often sees a woman with a dog in her lap and that one would suppose by her action that she prefers a poodle to a man animal. But, if you gumshoe after her and run her down, you will find that there is a man somewhere that she will shake the dog for, every time. It is very seldom that you will find a woman misanthrope.—Los Angeles Times.

Barren Palestine.

There are practically no minerals, no coal, no iron, no copper, no silver in Palestine, though recently some oil wells have been discovered in the Jordan valley. Neither are there any large forests, though the land may have been better wooded in the days of Joshua than now.

Ancient Hygienic Rules.

The Hindus had rules of hygiene, but public health appears always to have been unconsidered in China as it is today. They knew in antiquity the importance of good water, some of their wells being 1,500 feet deep and very old.

Carlyle's Prophecy.

America, too, will have to strain its energies, crack its sinews and all but break its heart, as all the rest of us had to do, in thousand-fold wrestle with the pythons and mud demons, before it can become a habitation for the gods.—Carlyle.
